Four Oaks

is

----the embellished building at the northern end of Main Street----the key which opens the door of education----the laboratory for testing new talents.

----the sound of feet walking in the hall----a bell ringing as classes change----the hum of teachers educating their pupils----the loading of children on buses.

----the fall chill in the air----a bonfire at a pep rally----a winning touchdown----the winter snow----long-awaited Christmas holidays----spring freshness----the excitement of the Jr.-Sr.

----responsibility, determination, knowledge, skill, achievement, beauty, sportsmanship, understanding, learning.

----identifying insects----studying for tests----cramming for exams----writing term papers----voting----laughing----doing.

----people, dreams, moments, memories.

F.O. is Understanding

----knowledge----an agreement----conception of an idea----compromising----relenting----comprehending.

----a smile received in time of trouble----imagining oneself in another's place----possessing a listening ear.

----knowing one's feelings and habits----giving the benefit of a doubt----helping others through hard times.

----help from a teacher on a particularly difficult subject----a smile, instead of a scolding, from a teacher when a student, for some feasible reason, does not do his part.

----when the teachers and principals at F.O.H.S. give a student in trouble a second chance to prove to himself and others that he is a respectable person.

Friendship

----helping others in time of need----speaking a kind word----inconveniencing oneself for the convenience of others.

----pulling together for a common goal----the dependability of a person to do his share of the work----hoping for the best for others, as well as oneself----standing up for the rights of another.

----seeing another's faults and admiring him despite them.

----being able to give a little and take a little; for only when friendship is a fifty-fifty partnership, is it a success.

----but more than anything else, friendship is promising to give of yourself and your time to help someone else along the long road of life.

F.O. is Knowledge

----learning----growing in love and understanding of others----a science.

----information gained and preserved----clear perception of a fact or subject----that which is known.

----wisdom----understanding and insight coming from experience----information gained from books or instruction.

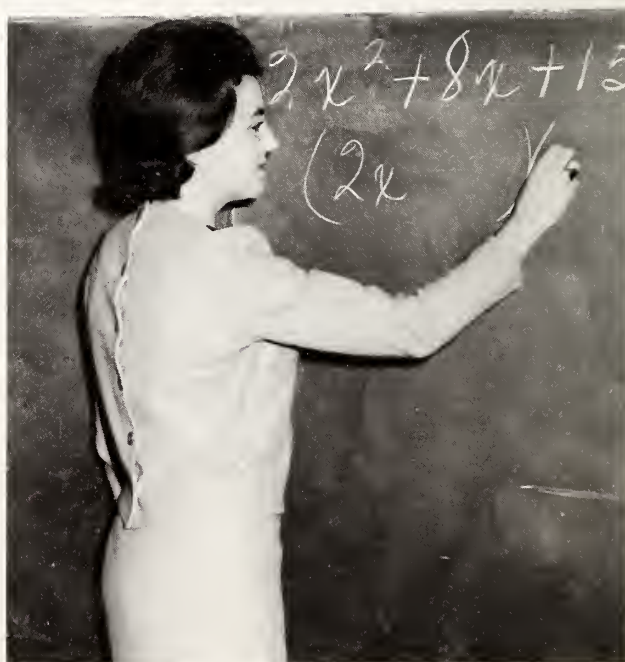

----an open mind which readily accepts information----remembering----a door opened, giving light to something new.

----knowing that a quirk of Fate placed you in your present environment and that you have some power to adjust the situation to your demands.

----realizing that there is a purpose for each life, and striving to fulfill that purpose.

----mastering the use of common sense----the ability to do a job well----the chance to progress in life.

----what one has received at Four Oaks School, which can never be taken away by any individual.

Achievement

----having others love and respect you----when younger students look up to you, admiringly----having friends upon whom you can rely.

----being in the Acorn Club and National Honor Society----receiving a scholarship to a university----winning a talent trophy.

----making first string basketball----winning Eastern Plains 2A Conference Championship----making all-conference football.

----getting your driver's license----obtaining and keeping a job----being recognized for unusual traits of character and leadership.

----graduating from F.O.H.S.----becoming a proud citizen of tomorrow----living a successful, fulfilling, and happy life.

F.O. is Sportsmanship

----obeying the rules and playing fair, no matter how hard----being victorious without becoming boastful----taking defeat without useless complaint.

----giving your all for a common goal----working diligently when the going gets rough----helping others along the way, even if they are on the opposing team.

----being careful not to hurt others' feelings by cruel words or deeds----looking for some good in each individual----pulling together as a complete team.

----cheerfully admitting your own mistakes----willingly giving others the opportunity to air their own feelings.

But above all, it is a feeling that should grow with each new experience.

School Spirit

----cheering at a ball game----wearing red and white on color day----putting your name on a victory chain----

----taking part in planning sock hops and the homecoming dance----eating popcorn, drinking drinks, and yelling----

----loyalty to F.O.H.S.----keeping our school clean and beautiful----pride in our school----willingness to display its beauty----

----respect for officials and school property----setting examples for freshmen----

----and last, but not least, singing the school song with a sense of pride and admiration for F.O.H.S.

Dedication

To one who...

Has given to us, her students, 40 years of her life...

Has taught us, guided us, understood us...

Has left upon us an impression of the immensity of knowledge to be gained,

And of our own ability to absorb this knowledge if we try...

Has demonstrated her devotion through her long years of effort...

Has dedicated the greatest gift - herself - to the development of our personalities;

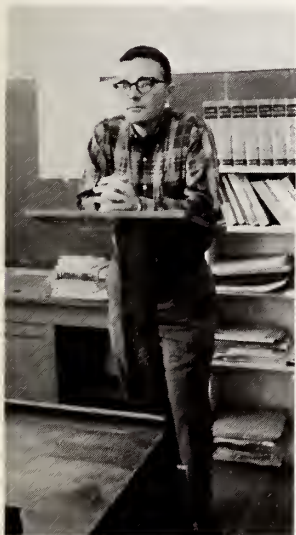

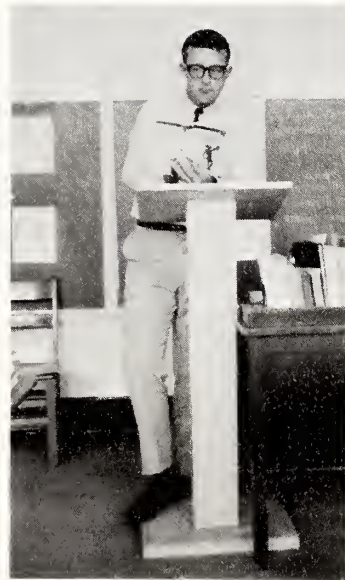

With love and appreciation and many thanks for the chance in life she has given us, we sincerely dedicate the 1967 Acorn to...

Lunchroom Staff

Thanks to the lunchroom staff, there is always a hot meal awaiting us when we get to the lunchroom.

Staff members are Mrs. Roberta Johnson, Mrs. Carrie Barnes, Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory, Mrs. Hazel Medlin, Mrs. Paulene Woodall, Mrs. Chrisie Grady, Mrs. Thelma Parker, Mrs. Esther Brewer, dietician; and Mrs. Mildred Adams.

Custodians

These may be seen, but not heard. They quietly go about sweeping the halls and cleaning our school. Thanks to them, we have a clean, warm place to attend school.

A familiar face which we do not see among the custodians is that of Mr. Rother Barbour. He was known and loved by all students, and everyone misses him this year.

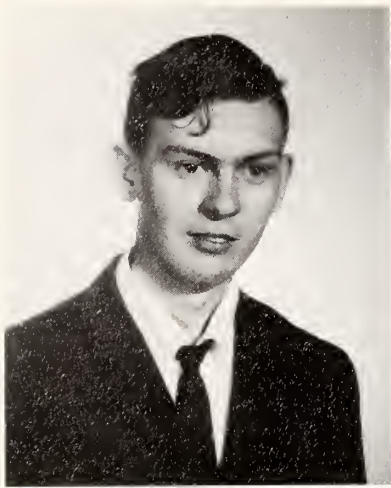

The custodians are Mrs. Polly Slaughter, Mr. Willard Slaughter, Mrs. Pearlene Woodall, Mrs. Evelyn Ellis, Mrs. Annie Stanley, and Mr. Charlie Stanley.

Outstanding Seniors are Chosen

This year for the first time, the faculty of Four Oaks selected seven outstanding Seniors. These Seniors were selected on the basis of academic standing, extra-curricular activities, character, leadership, and attitude toward school. The Acorn staff congratulates these Seniors and hopes that they will continue to represent the ideals for which they have been selected.

That is good and fair

The 1966 Cardinal team cannot be called a Cinderella team. Every inch they gained and every victory they won took hard work and good old-fashioned fortitude. It was their ability to come from behind and to play their best, even when they were outsized, that proved them champions. It was a fire of determination inside them which kindled their appetites to win even when some said it couldn't be done. Then their desire was transformed into action by the state's best coach, Tom Jones, aided by John Hatch and Ed Graham. Time and again Cardinal fans were brought to their feet as Wallace Creech trickily maneuvered downfield; or as Bill Barbour and Ronald Massengill leaped high over a defender with hands outstretched to receive a pass; or as linebackers Cliff Massengill and W. R. Moore blitzed into the backfield to tackle the opposing team for a loss; or as the entire forward line led by Dovie Blackmon, Tim Barbour, Wayne Starling, and David Compton cleared the way for our locomotive-like fullbacks, Danny Lee and Tommy Jones.

Fans cannot soon forget the aggressive playing of end Wayne Hamilton as he knocked down interference while protecting his area. It took a tremendous amount of "blood, sweat, toil, and tears," not only by these men, but by the entire team's working together to bring pride and honor to our school. But most important is the pride which they have acquired in knowing that they have "finished their course, fought a good fight" and achieved the goal which they set for themselves.

Homecoming Highlights — 1966

"That Was The Week That Was." Homecoming week brought with it fires of school spirit flaming up spontaneously about the campus and town. Ideas were transformed into realities as each one "pitched in" to make it the best homecoming ever.

Juniors and seniors could be found going from door to door around town collecting napkins and tissue for floats bearing the titles, "Senior Spirit of '67" and "Flush the Falcons." Megaphones, pom-poms, and victory cardinals were made for the series of pre-game pep rallies and parades. The 28th Junior Battalion was an important part of the Homecoming spirit.

The long-awaited night finally came and the nominees for queen rode majestically onto the field at the halftime of the spine-tingling 7-6 victory over Charles B. Aycock. Our fifth Homecoming Queen, Susan Alenia Johnson, was crowned.

Following the victorious game for the cardinals, a homecoming dance was held in the gym.

Have you got that spirit?

The girls' basketball team of 1966-67 started the season lacking one ingredient which is necessary to have a winning team. That ingredient is confidence; however, with the new coach, Mrs. Mary Alice Hamilton, the Four Oaks Cardinals are more determined than ever to be winners as well as good sports. With only three seniors on the squad, the girls feel inexperienced but the future is looking better all the time.

Phyllis Johnson, Vickie Evans, Phyllis Flowers, Susan Tarkington, Pat Austin, Dorenda Blackmon, Alice Keene, Mrs. Hamilton, Coach, Patsy Lee, Nancy Stanley, Belinda Temple, Pam Barefoot, Janice Allen,

For You

This Acorn is for you. It is a record of your studies, activities, teachers, friends. It is the experiences of the year 1966-67 at Four Oaks School. It is the effort of every Acorn staff member. Though it is only one edition, the work started in May and did not end until January.

At times it's been rather exasperating—but it's also been quite satisfying. We have tried to give you this year as it really happened—but remember, each one of you helped to make the Acorn what it is. We hope that this Acorn will mean much to you as you reminisce in the future.

Thanks

to every member of the Acorn staff; to the photographers who took the mountain of needed snapshots; to the assistant editors who helped with their ideas; to the business managers who looked after the finances; to the class editors who compiled pictures, names, and wrote headlines; to the copy editors who spent many hours writing copy, captions, and headlines; to the art and snapshot editors who helped in any way; to the typists who typed anything handed to them without question or complaint; to everyone who met the deadline; to Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Talton who helped at all times; to Jackie who, although not on the Acorn staff, was always near when needed; to Mr. Grigg and to Mr. Wilson who shared with us their ideas; to Dot Hooks for taking the superlative and homecoming pictures; to Reuben Johnson for coming any time we needed him and getting the pictures back on time; to School Pictures who made our club pictures; to J. B. Edwards for the day with the layout; to Hunter Publishing Co. for all their co-operation; to all the teachers for their help, understanding, and co-operation; to Mr. Beeker for his patience; to the advertisers who made this Acorn possible; to my family and friends; to each person who has helped in his own way. MERCI BEAUCOUP!
